Bruce Koenigsberg (Bass, Vocals)

Born in Detroit, Michigan, home of the Motown Sound, Bruce is one of Seattle's premier blues bass players and is a founding member of the Fabulous Roof Shakers - FRS. Prior to forming FRS, Bruce was a co-founder of The JamDawgs, who hosted music jams on the Eastside. Bruce is also a sought-after substitute for other bands needing an in-the-pocket bass player who can really spank the plank, such as locals like the Charles White Band, Tim Turner Band or touring acts like the Big Moe Review, and Roger "Hurricane" Wilson. Bruce is also a member of the Washington and the South Sound Blues Societies.

Gordon Benson

(Saxophones, Vocals)

Another FRS founder, Gordon Benson is the only Roof Shaker who actually was born and raised in the Northwest. He began playing saxophone in grade school and continued to study and practice through high school and in college. Gordon played in various jazz and rock bands including Back Room, Mad Hatter, Blue Field and most recently, I-5 South.

Joe Blue (Vocals, Harmonica)

From Queens, New York, front man extraordinaire Joe Blue is a former Capitol Records recording artist and has performed with such blues greats as John Lee Hooker, Marsha Ball, Steve Bassett, Roomful of Blues and Ronnie Earl.

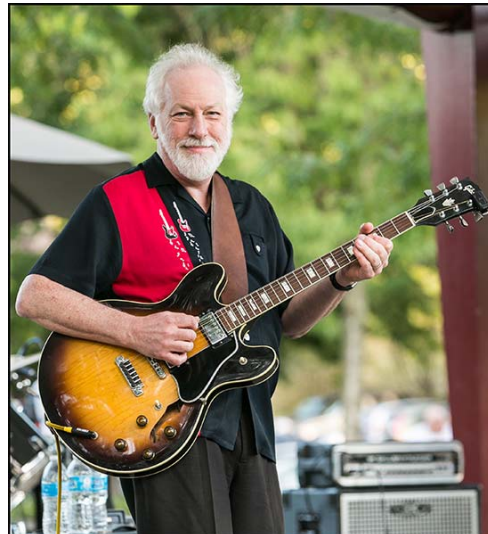

Joe toured Europe with the King Biscuit Blues Band and played up and down the East Coast with Nine Below Zero, the Aces and the Nighttown Ready Blues Band.. Locally, Joe was a member of the Hot Rod Holman Blues Review.

Paul Sommer (Guitar)

Paul played with SF Bay Area 11-piece band, Blue Mountain and with the Gary Smith Blues Band. He played with 11-piece Hayden Project, playing regularly at the Great American Music Hall in San Francisco. Paul moved to Seattle to work for Peavey Electronics and played with Seattle blues band, Blue Collar, before taking a break to raise a family. Paul recently retired after eighteen years as the District Sales Manager for KORG USA (KORG, Marshall, VOX, Blackstar).

Richard Sabol (Drums)

Raised in Rhode Island, Richard grew up in Newport; home to the world renowned Newport Jazz Festival.

He now has performed for over 40 years to a broad style of music including R&B, rock, metal, jazz, C&W, big band swing, and Latin, gospel & classical. From a timpani in a symphony to a drum kit he will make it fit.

He has appeared in casinos, clubs, arenas, festivals and anywhere music is performed and loved. Rich is a respected teacher and has held clinics on a national and international level. His work is presently featured on seven CD's and his live performances have been on bills with the Greg Allman Band, The Outlaws, Black Oak, Marshall Tucker, Johnny Winter and many others. Richard brings high energy to any rhythm section.

We had the pleasure of engaging the Fabulous Roof Shakers on two momentous occasions. They were professional and polished in their performances and we enjoyed the mix of songs. Toes were tapping and some spontaneous dancing broke out, rare for our ages. We highly recommend them to any and all that enjoy good old rock and roll!
